DotVPN Cracked Version is a VPN network service provider based in Japan. It features not only secure, strong and private VPN connections but also a plethora of extra features such as P2P file sharing, remote access, anonymization, various geo-restricted access and even an ad-blocker among others. The VPN application is very straightforward, intuitive, stable and easy to use and is one of the most downloaded VPN service out there. NetNanny (Beta) NetNanny is a parental control software designed for consumers that want to keep track of where their kids spend their time online. This software allows parents to filter out inappropriate and/or inappropriate websites based on age and/or content. According to NetNanny's website, this software has been downloaded over two million times, and as of November, 2009, NetNanny is ranked #1 in the "Most popular free parental control software" category on CNET. This is another powerful free application which enables you to spy on the web usage of your kids and to save the data for offline browsing. The ability to save the data for offline browsing might make this application more useful in countries where the service provider doesn't charge. NetNanny; The software works on Windows XP, Vista and Windows 7 It has an interface that is both simple and clear. The software allows you to monitor the browsing activity of your kids on the device they are using the most. It tracks both your kids' IP address and browsers. It generates daily reports and can forward the details through email and to your PC/PC, as well. NetNanny; It is both an application as well as a plugin. It does not need to be installed. Simply put it on your USB or CD and load it up. NetNanny offers you the ability to filter out all the sites your kid visits, as well as to decide exactly which sites they should be allowed to visit. While the application offers you the ability to filter out the sites your kids visit and/or filter the sites they are allowed to visit, it does not offer you the ability to be able to find out what your kids are doing when they are not on your PC, i.e., when they are using mobile phones or tablets. NetNanny is a completely free application. There is no trial version offered by the application. The download is offered free

If you are wondering where to get a VPN you can use for free, then you'll be happy to know that you can always opt for a free VPN service. This way, you don't have to spend money on something that may not offer you all the features that a paid-for VPN has to offer. How does a free VPN work? In other words, a free VPN provides you with a few premium features along with your basic IP address protection. For example, a free VPN can let you bypass geo-restrictions, access restricted websites, access the Internet from a different location and keep your online activity private. In addition to being free to use, most free VPN services don't track your online behavior. Likewise, some of these services are fast and highly secure, meaning that you can have the freedom to choose the best VPN available on the market without having to worry about the quality of the service or its speed. Overall, with a free VPN you can experience the safety and freedom that the Internet and World Wide Web provide, but without having to pay a cent. Free VPNs that you can opt for include: T

What's New in the DotVPN?

DotVPN is an add-on designed for Google Chrome, Firefox and Opera web browsers and, although it does not require any sort of user-intervention, it is advisable that the user gives some of the website they are visiting a chance to store information locally on their device. We would like to thank the owners of the respective web browsers for making the necessary arrangements for it to work as intended. Similarly, if you are using a desktop operating system with its built-in VPN services, then we would recommend you use the default OS setting for this task rather than setting up an additional VPN application. How to use DotVPN? DotVPN is one of the simplest VPN software to use as you would need to install it as an add-on for any of the 3 supported web browsers. We would like to thank its developers for the functionality that they provided for us to be able to use it. After downloading and installing the add-on, it will prompt you to enable it to work properly. Follow the instructions and after you are done, you should be good to go. Perform the following steps in order to activate and deactivate the VPN: * 1. Click on 'Connect', which will bring up a window with a green button labeled 'On'. * 2. Click on the green button to activate the service. A window will pop up requesting you to save files locally on your device. Click 'OK' to accept the terms and conditions. * 3. If everything went fine, a message will pop-up stating that the app is connected. You could now browse the internet as usual. How to connect to a VPN server? When you first install DotVPN, you will find that it will ask you to save the app at a location of your choice. If you have a limited amount of space on your device, it is advisable to not use the full disk, but save the app to either %AppData%\DotVPN or %UserProfile%\Application Data\DotVPN. When you are prompted to select a server to connect to, click on the location that you wish to add the app to and a window will pop-up asking you to specify the IP and Port of the server you wish to connect to. * 1. Enter the IP and Port of the server you wish to connect to and click on 'Select'. * 2. Enter a username and password and click on 'Connect'. The simple
