MSG is a desktop client program designed to move files between your computer and a Microsoft Exchange Server. Use it as the messenger when you use to send and receive emails. The program enables you to transfer data via a variety of methods. Move MSG files to EML Let's say that you are an email user and you like to have different email folders on your device so that you can keep all your emails in the folders you prefer. However, after some time, you end up with a great number of emails, but they are not in a single folder. This may happen because you have a MSN account with many contacts. Every time you get a new message, you move it to a folder named “Inbox” so you can read it at a later time. As time goes by, you have so many messages in Inbox that it becomes difficult to manage and keep an eye on them all. Therefore, you want to create a folder named “MyMessages”. In this case, you must use a converter that helps you move MSG files to EML without affecting your emails. So, in case you are thinking about searching for a converter to convert your MSG files to EML, then you are probably interested in something like Softspire MDAemon Converter. This software can help you migrate your MSG files to EML in batch mode, for which reason it can be called an application to migrate MSG files to EML. Steps to Convert MSG Files to EML Using MDAemon Converter Choose the type of the file

The first step is to select the type of file you want to move from MSG to EML. The MSG to EML converter will need to detect the file type in order to convert MSG to EML. If the file type is not supported, you will be asked to choose the file type by selecting one of the following: Microsoft Office MSG,

Microsoft Office PST, Microsoft Office MSG, and Microsoft Office MBOX. Choose the file location Then you need to choose the location you want to save the converted file to. This is the second step. Select the file name you want to use After that, you will need to enter the name of the MSG file you want to convert and what format you want it converted to. The third step is to select the name of the file you want to convert. You can specify the name of the converted file as the default name. This will make the conversion process easier. Use the email file converter
