To move to a new level, the screen will change from black to

What's new:

Offendron Warrior (アークベオン・オト라우イ, Akōveon Otorauai) is a character from the Mobile Suit Gundam series and as well its spinoff of anime and manga Power Producing Gundam. He is the de facto chief of the Offyteam (AOS-94 Orbital Assault Unit-94/Offyteam). He first appeared in the anime series Mobile Suit Gundam I.G.U. Mark.02. Offendron Warrior is a sentient android in the form of a cyborg, with blue eyes and a red-white uniform. His guardian is Cagalli who originally built him as a warrior to save her race but she became his trusted companion and de facto leader. Role Offendron Warrior appeared in Mobile Suit Gundam I.G.U. Mark.02 where he is the de facto leader of the Offyteam (AOS-94 Orbital Assault Unit-94). He is notable for being the only human cyborg in the Mobile Suit Gundam universe, and it was through him that the Musai race managed to gain technology to build more advanced versions of the Nadleeh and Aerva. The Aerva were destroyed during the series finale but the AOS-94 were charged with protecting the Nadleeh while the Nadleeh are under investigation on the Musai homeworld. The pilot of the AOS-94A1, Gundam Ver.2, a rebuilt version of AOS-94A with changed design on the pilot cloth and armor. The Offy team is headed by the commander Offy Cagalli, a water burrower from the Rafale, she is said to be the mother of both Aervas and Offy. A friend, but twisted ally of Commander Cagalli is Rail Esda. Rail's design is based on Ramba Ral from Battle of Armageddon (Mobile Suit Gundam 00), a high-class strike force commander. After Rail's death, the Commander Cagalli set in motion her plan to retrieve his body and legacy from the ashes, the Aervas and Offys carry out that plan by defeating the other High-Class. Commander

Cagalli entrusted Rail to deliver a message to the Aervas she left with, but Rail falls to his death on the way. As the Commander Cagalli engage the Aervas with Rail's body hanging from her as a martyr, the Offy Team are defeated by the Aervas and left to

As a master assassin returning from a losing battle for the freedom of her homeland, Beauty has come to the Valley of Super Flowers to collect her reward. What she finds instead is an army of creatures bent on mass murder and mayhem. The overwhelming number of enemies can be easily discouraged by defeating the weak ones and capturing them. However, the demons are too strong for the humans and they will wear them down, then destroy them. But against that great number, the humans have at least one advantage—a single patch of protective energy. Each time a human captures a demon, they must defend it with a nearby patch. It can be used repeatedly, but if the patch is destroyed or runs out of energy, the demon will quickly wreak havoc on the humans until they too are destroyed. In order to survive, it's time for Beauty to go on the hunt. And in the Valley of Super Flowers, she's going to go hunting... Complicated by Prejudicial Harmful Aspiration after Tongue-Tying - A Case Report. Tongue-tying is one of the most commonly performed procedures in pediatric anesthesia. Complications following tongue-tying are very rare. To our knowledge, aspiration following tongue-tying has not been reported. We describe a case of complicated aspiration with a case review of literature. A 10-year-old boy was scheduled for microsurgery of the tongue. The child was positioned supine and was fasted for 12 hours preoperatively. The operation was

[Seasonal variations of key nutrients in daily diets of school-aged children and adults: A multi-center study]. To study the seasonal variation characteristics of key nutrients for diets of children and adults, and to provide basis for the development and formulation of nutritional intervention programs. Data from 24-hour duplicate dietary samples (adding food scales) collected by 5 nutrition surveys from May to September 2016 in Heze City was analyzed. Among the 459 subjects (aged 3, 6, 9, 12, 18 and 59 years), more food consumption were obtained from children aged 9 - 12 years, compared with the other age groups. For 3 - 9 years old children, food consumption were generally increasing and the values were higher in winter and lower in summer. For adults, the food consumption were about 50 kcal/kg/day with high intake of protein and starch, and decreased with age. Main food sources of energy for adults were dairy products and animal products, while grain and others were dominant for children. The sources of protein were wheat and kidney beans for the adults, while the children's main food sources were milk and dumplings. Seasonal variation showed significant difference in the amounts of key nutrients for children and adults. To improve public health, nutritional intervention programs based on seasonal variation are suggested to be carried out in the future.Q: How to run Python scripts with Docker? I use
