You can "live" the feeling of traveling in a spaceship between stars. Furthermore, the application has many options that can change the visual effects displayed. You can change the speed of the "star travel" so you can better observe each passing object. Additionally, you can change the flying direction, thus allowing you to see the stars passing behind as your virtual spaceship keeps going forward. One of the most visually-stunning features is the fact that you can set the application to randomly select a color theme from the ones provided. You do not have to stare at the same color scheme, as you can have many star colors, such as blue combined with purple stars, or yellow and green ones. Hey Guys, i recently bought a 3D object to put up on my desktop, that has been working great, but i have the view that is placed in front of the desktop, that is displaying on my monitor, and i want to get rid of it. I have looked on the internet and i found that i have to turn off the drivers that my video card is using, but this is not an option for me because i have windows 10 on my PC and i need to be able to use the openGL software. Does anyone know how i can stop that object from displaying on the front of my desktop, is there some sort of an option that i can use in the control panel of Windows 10 or something to do this, or any other way to do it? Any help would be greatly appreciated. Thanks, Andrew.]]>Review by earthstar21 07 Jun 2020 08:05:35 +0000Hyperstars 3D Product Key Desktop Wallpaper Screensaver | Get FREE 10 Laptop Wallpapers
